

2022 Epworth Medical Education Symposium

Saturday, 19 November 2022 | 8.30am – 2.30pm (Registration from 8.30am)
University of Melbourne | Kwong Lee Building, 234 Queensberry Street, Carlton

This symposium will build and enhance skills related to teaching and clinical supervision, and provide a forum for sharing educational innovation related to teaching and learning.

Topics covered

- > Medical education in patient centred care
- > Challenges and best practice in work-based assessment
- > How teaching and learning occurs in the clinical setting
- > Diagnosing the learner in difficulty
- > Educational factors that contribute to burnout
- > Model of education for a new technology in health care management
- > Changes in the pedagogical delivery of the new Melbourne MD program

Presenters

Keynote speaker:

- > Professor Kichu Nair

Key presenter:

- > Dr Ben Bravery

Presenters:

- > A/Prof Victor Lee
- > A/Prof Christine Jackman
- > A/Prof Michael Ponsford
- > A/Prof Fiona Kent
- > A/Prof Lisa Cheshire
- > Mr Phil Dundee

Event details

In person: You are invited to attend in person | $50 (includes morning tea and lunch)

Virtual: The event will be broadcasted via Zoom | $10

Registration

To register: <https://www.ivvy.com.au/event/MES2022/>

Enquiries: For more information, please contact Leith Condon, Medical Events Specialist

Email: leith.condon@epworth.org.au | Phone: 0450 277 610

epworth.org.au

Epworth